A Rarely Encountered Zodiac Mohur

1469. MUGHAL: Jahangir, 1605-1628, AV zodiac mohur, Agra, AH1028 year 14, KM-180.19, BMC-350 (same obverse die), Capricorn (December/January), mythical creature, forepart of goat with scaled fish-like tail, crouching left, solar rays behind, NGC graded EF45, RRRR $50,000 - 70,000

Capricorn is one of the rarest of Jahangir's zodiac mohurs. No specimen has been posted on CoinArchives. There is one specimen on Zeno.ru, from the Ashmolean Museum and dated AH1033 year 18, from the same dies as the piece illustrated in KM. Examples of the early years of the Capricorn mohurs bear a complete border of solar rays, as on this piece, but later issues have three gaps in the border of rays, for the head, forelegs and tail of Capricorn. This example appears to be a die match for the obverse photographed example in Stanley Lane Poole's Catalogue of the Coins of the Mughal Emperors in the British Museum, 1892. This is the cover coin of this auction catalog.

In 1974, a hoard of gold coins was discovered along the riverbank near the city of Akola. It is believed the mohurs represented military pay sent from the mint at Surat to Mughal troops fighting near Golkonda. As the story goes, the courier rested with the troops at night in the dry riverbed. Suddenly premature monsoon rains filled the area and swept away the caravan - and with it the whole gold mintage of the Surat mint for that year. Perhaps this tale was invented to conceal what really had happened, most likely either loss or theft or some other egregious activity.

1488. MUGHAL: Shah Jahan I, 1628-1658, AV mohur (10.91g), Akbarabad, AH1062 year 26, KM-258.1, strong strike, 1 testmark, barely visible scratch on obverse, VF-EF $600 - 700

One of the rarest Mughal emperors, Shah Shuja

1494. MUGHAL: Shah Shuja, 1657-1660, AR rupee (11.55g), Akbarnagar, AH1068 year one (ahad), KM-275.1, lovely strike, 4-panel legend on obverse, tiny flan defect at the middle of the obverse, without any testmarks on the obverse & reverse, but there are 2 interesting small banker's marks on the edge, one of the nicest rupees we have ever seen for this reign, choice VF-EF, RRR, ex Paul Stevens Collection $6,000 - 8,000

Shah Shuja was one of four sons of Shah Jahan I to claim the empire after their father's death. Shah Shuja was based in Rajmahal in Jharkhand state, then called Akbarnagar, but was soon defeated by Aurangzeb, fled toward Arakan, eventually dying in Manipur in AH1071 (February 1661). His known coins are all dated AH1068, nearly all from the mint of Akbarnagar, all extremely rare.
