"Kalkata" represents the Persian text name for Calcutta, the British spelling, now written Kolkata in modern India (and Kalkattah in KM).

1221. BENGAL PRESIDENCY: AR rupee (11.45g), Kalkata, year 5, KM-8.2, Stv-1.10/11., Prid-7/8, in the name of Alamgir II, bold strike, clear mint name, several banker's marks on the edge only, VF, RRR, ex Paul Stevens Collection $1,200 - 1,600

1223. BENGAL PRESIDENCY: AR ½ rupee (5.82g), Kalkata, year 4, KM-7, Stv-1.13 (this piece)., Prid-9, in the name of Alamgir II, bold strike, with the mint name very clear, together with the various symbols that characterize this mint, possibly 2nd known specimen (one was published in Numismatic Chronicle in 1903)., choice EF, RRR, ex Paul Stevens Collection $3,000 - 4,000

1224. BENGAL PRESIDENCY: AR 1/8 rupee (1.42g) (Kalkata), year 4, KM-5, Stv-1.15., Prid-11, in the name of Alamgir II, mint name off flan and might be Murshidabad, but nonetheless struck at Calcutta., F-VF, RR, ex Paul Stevens Collection $120 - 200

1225. BENGAL PRESIDENCY: AR rupee (11.64g), Murshidabad, AH(1174) year 6, KM—, Stv-1.18 (this piece)., Prid—, in the name of Alamgir II, actually struck at Calcutta, superb strike, believed to be unique, choice EF, RRRR, ex Paul Stevens Collection $1,600 - 2,000

Alamgir II, whose name is very clear on this piece, died on 29 November 1759, which fell during the 6th month of AH1173, long before the first dies for 1174 would have been engraved. Moreover, the style and symbols retain the appearance of the year 4, 5 and 6 rupees of Alamgir II with the mint name Kalkata. The use of the Murshidabad mint name was acquired at the end of 1760, and the transfer of the ruler's name from Alamgir to Shah Alam was authorized in July 1761, whence Stevens has carefully concluded that this exceedingly rare type must have been struck during the first half of 1761 (the Hijri year 1174 ended on 1 August 1761). The quantity struck must have been minuscule.

1226. BENGAL PRESIDENCY: AE 2 pice token (4.64g), NM, ND, KM—, Stv-1.24 (this piece)., Prid—, V E I C in baemark, all letters retrograde / numeral "2", unique, VF, RRRR, ex Paul Stevens Collection $1,500 - 2,000

Bengal Public Consultations, 24 October 1757, for the rebuilding of the fortifications of Calcutta: "The Committee of works represent to the Board that it will be extremely troublesome and inconvenient to pay the cowleys, labourers and bricklayers, to be employed on the fortifications, in cowries. They recommend therefore that copper, brass or tutenague tickets may be stamped of different values for the payment of those people, which shall be taken back at the value stamp'd on the respective tickets. Ordered: Mr Frankland to stamp a number of such tickets."
